Description of Incident

Provide a description of the incident and how you were victimized. Provide information not captured elsewhere in this complaint form.

Persons utilize the real time location provided by the triangulation of emissions off a persons body and brain-then the software can load and store the real time coordinates of every part of the brain - and the software has the locations of every relevant part of the CONECTOME of the brain(which is the functional brain mapping type deal)-the software will tell the antennas in use for this system what coordinates to aim electromagnetic combinations onto the brain for the specific neurological effect

So for audio or synthetic thought - it will use the correct coordinates of the brain for each syllable-then cause electromagnetic energy to hit those specific spots with the correct magnitude to cause synthetic neurological activity in those specific cortical column regions/prymidimal regions-then switch to the next syllable in a word extremely fast-to load functional words in the head of someone-it switches extremmly fast so there is no delay in the time between words as seen in regular thinking

Persons also will utilize the real time vision of a person and have object recognition software so when someone sees an object in the vision - it can be linked to previous data about a person that was recorded using the MASINT system(which allowed for functional recording of real time neurological activity)-so if someone sees something or scence recognition software gets a match then it will tell the software to fire at the specific parts of the brain responsible for producing language and load a custom string of words into the head of someone (where it gives a person specific language or thoughts based on something they see , or it can also access previous vision data a person has seen and then form a sentence or string of sentences about a previous memory(which is just commeting about real time vision recorded in the past)

The persons with the capablites have cataloged persons they have recorded life and then ran sorting software to sort objects ,memories , feelings and highly advanced sorting and tagging of memories a person has had -- then they can trigger the software to stimulate the brain of a person using a macro to cause specific sentences or words to be created in their head or even to restimulate the brain of someone (restimulate the visual cortex of a person using their software location key which allows the re-loading of the image that they saw out of their eyes at the time of the memory - but back into the head of the victim + the system will stimulate the language center of the brain to load in a custom sentence(and sometimes also with a pain impulse or an injury impulse ) -as they comment and force a person to be tortured based on the previous data they collected about a person (persons have been running longitutindal data collection about people - where they record the real time thoughts,vision ,sound they hear and other evoked potentials -- off a persons brain -- then they can use software and artificial intelligence software that detects specific waveforms or evoked potentials when they torture someone (or object recognition) -- then the software will tell the antenna how to create specific clusters of electromagnetic waves to intersect at a bunch of different locations on the brain (to then cause specific neuronal circuits to light up in highly algorithmic and controlled fashion) -- to stimulate thought or an image or even the image that someone had seen based on what they saw out of their eyes (they can recreate an image of what your eyes saw in your head - and persons are doing this and then making the artificial intelligence comment on previous memories or thoughts a person had in their life - while then injuring them or using other electromagnetic impulses to degrade or injure them

Persons are actually doing this to the victim and to other people-they take advantage that they have the monopoly on long distance neurological detection and the monopoly on this type of ultra long distance brain stimulation capabilities.

It is really important to note that they have longitudinal recorded data about specific people (where they recorded the real time vision, thoughts, and evoked potentials) - and then also have the ability to stimulate strings of sentences inside the brain (because the software key knows the location of the brain for every syllable creation - then will switch at low latency to next syllable in a word - and an advance software program will make it so that the brain is continuously stimulated by synthetic thought and words and also synthetic image creation

These persons have a very advanced connectome and brain map built into their software where they know how much energy and the location combinations needed to stimulate to recreate words and thought or emotions or even images back into the head of a person - then they have paired it together using artificial intelligence to make it continuously utilize the real time coordinate system to stimulate the brain of the victim (when they are in their house, or even on the move)

This system is very advanced and more advanced than the FBI realizes- persons complain about this system calling it "v2k-or voice to skull" and remote neural monitoring as slang to the FBI or to government officials.

Persons leave the software on nonstop 24/7

Persons can also do more advanced things with this software and let the artificial intelligence do remote limb manipulation or to set highly complex strings of neurological stimulations of the brain based on evoked potentials.

Persons can also make the object recognition software and other software control and set orders and sequences of what limbs to move or what muscle combinations to move - and their magnitude and order and sequence - then the software (which is keeping track of the brain in real time) -- will tell the software and antennas to calculate the combinations of electromagnetic vectors and intersections to hit those specific muscle brain regions and specific combinations of muscle brain regions - then will switch combinations of which muscles to hit (in the correct order)

(Persons are making really unethical and really illegal brain and muscle control software that is controlled by human operators and artificial intelligence that can be used to manipulate the limbs of a person or make a software package (like alpha go type capability - determine which muscles to have contracted , in which order and sequences to use objects or to make a person do autonomous actions against their will)

Persons are running these types of programs and killing people and torturing people to death nonstop , and torturing people until they die or commit suicide (based on what other people have said - while government officials and health professionals think they are mentally ill or schizophrenic - because the detection physics and microphysics and detecting their electromagnetic impulses require highly sophisticated knowledge in electrical engineering , neurophysics , signal processing and antenna theory) - where these people with this technology are getting away with this and other highly heinous and sophisticated crimes

Persons are able to get away with this because the software and system will continue to track the real time brain emissions of a person they are targeting-then render it into the real time vision,thought,sound heard, and evoked potentials a person is creating -- and then will provide the location of every single part of their brain in an x,y,z coordinate for the software-then the software has keys and built in connectome style capability which allows the human operators to tell the software to create audio,voice,image, or move the limbs of a person . But it is important to note that the software will tell the antennas they are using how long to stay on and which antenna elements to activate and what type of frequency to create , polarization , phase and magnetic field and electric field magnitude values ,and also the angle to aim- to create sets of electromagnetic waves that will arrive to the points of interest and combinations onto a person to precisely neurostimulate nonstop

SENT TO ARMY CID

People are running some sort of private MASINT program (and it works globally)- where they can either
Collect electromagnetic emissions of the brain and body passively
Or
Collect them using a carrier frequency

Or

Collect them using a heterodyne

Or collect them using resonance

Or collect them using backscatter or reflection (impedance type measurement )

Where people then can sort the electromagnetic waves off the brain crudely or at decent resolution and run through custom neural networks to render real time vision , real time audio , real time evoked potentials
Persons will leave it to the fbi to figure out which way it's being done - this is the "remote neural monitoring " capabilities

And persons can use the real time location of the brain and then generate a landmark and distance from that landmark off the brain (will provide the software the real time location of every part of the brain  - so persons can then aim electromagnetic frequencies on indirect or direct path (where they alter the arrival time and arrival angle (just ) to be able to intersect electromagnetic frequencies onto the brain at any x ,y,z point so the correct magnetic and electric flux is applied to the correct pyramidal neurons of interest to cause them to synapse )- then persons can cause specific brain regions to synapse in highly algorithmic sequences and orders and combinations by altering the locations of electromagnetic intersections and combination- where the electromagnetic combinations will be optimized for energy imparted onto specific "brain circuits " and location-and the real time location of every single part of brain (in a quasi x,y,z coordinate grid system is updated in real time - even if the person is on the move ) - the system works over the whole USA -and private persons can use it and the software

Persons say the Defence intelligence agency should be able to figure out the physics eventually and ionosphere and atmosphere physics and electromagnetic aiming physics and signatures eventually

The system allows tracking of electromagnetic emissions off the brain and then software allows real time coordinate system of every x,y,z coordinate on brain and body and will calculate how to aim the antennas based on what the persons want to do to someone's body - it will work anywhere in Europe or USA - persons can calculate indirect or direct electromagnetic pulses to intersect and cause neurological brain activity to occur - while also watching emitted neurological activity and emissions—from hundreds to thousand of kilometers away

Persons note it's the point of intersection in the brain that will have induced neurological activity (where the electromagnetic waves aimed will have modified firing time (so arrival time happens at exact z,y,x point )- and altered phase and polarized - and frequency and power can be modified

Persons note that many combinations on the brain and neocortex can have electromagnetic waves that arrive at the correct intersection points at once - even if they are at slightly different or different x,y,z coordinates on the brain (causing concurrent synapse) - then the software will switch x,y,z aiming points to cause new intersections (based on private connectome data for the neurological effect of interest) - persons note the software can also stagger induced synapses

So this allows functional control of brain circuits and regions with extremely little lag delay (by forced synapse - by forcing correct magnetic and electric energy or flux at intersection points (by altering arrival time) to get the neuronal membranes of pyramidal cells to depolarize

Persons can do a lot - even if someone moving at high speeds - based on the induced synthetic firing patterns the software is told to make on someone's brain

[No response provided]

Are there any other witnesses or victims to this incident?

Recorded on MASINT style system which allows remote monitoring of brain activity off a person (where persons have had these capabilities since at least the mid 1990's - and have concealed this from the FBI somehow)

If you have reported this incident to other law enforcement or government agencies, please provide the name, phone number, email, date reported, report number, etc.
